Intervacc appoints new CFO and new VP supply chain management

Intervacc is pleased to announce the appointment of Jan Persson as the new CFO for the Intervacc Group as well as a member of the group management team. Jan Persson succeeds Andreas Johansson, who will become VP supply chain management. Andreas Johansson, who will be a part-time on paternity leave until autumn 2020, continues to be part of the group management.

Jan holds a degree of Master of Science in Business and Economics from Stockholm University and has many years of experience as CFO and other senior positions. Jan will strengthen Intervacc's management team and have an important role as the company moves towards commercializing Intervacc's first product, Strangvac®, and with the goal of laying the foundations for profitable growth.

"It feels very stimulating and exciting to be able to help realize the potential that exists in the technology of recombinant proteins, and to be involved in introducing new vaccines. I am convinced that Intervacc is well placed to become one of the leading players in the development of animal vaccines based on this exciting technology, and I look forward to contributing to this development" says Jan Persson, new CFO at Intervacc.

"I have worked with Jan during the past year and I look forward to continuing to work closely with him in my new role. We are building a distribution chain for the launch of Strangvac® and that is a challenge that I look forward to managing" says Andreas Johansson, new VP supply chain management at Intervacc.

"I am very pleased that we can welcome Jan to Intervacc and to our Group Management. He is a senior manager, with a solid financial and commercial experience, a profile that fits well into the phase that Intervacc is moving towards. We have previously worked together, and I look forward to the exciting times we have ahead of us with Intervacc" says Andreas Andersson President and CEO of Intervacc and continues *"This is another important step in the expansion of Intervacc and the preparation for the launch of Strangvac®. Andreas Johansson has solid knowledge and experience of logistics and purchasing of veterinary medicines, a responsibility he has had in parallel with his CFO role for many years for us.
